Subject: E-Verify Redesign

The United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) announced that significant changes have been made to E-Verify beginning. E-Verify is the system used to verify employment eligibility. The use of this system was originally voluntary but is now required for use by all companies that receive federal contracts or subcontracts that include an E-Verify clause (since September 8, 2009) or in states that require use of E-Verify by all employees or for certain state contracts.

For more information please reference the USCIS website at:
